Preface

WITH THE exception of the press-Brailled books provided under the Federal program administered by the Library of Congress since 1931, this Catalog represents a compilation of all readable Braille titles reported by libraries and organizations throughout the United States in response to a request for this information made by the Library of Congress to the several libraries in 1951. The publication includes over 15,000 titles, the preponderance of which are in single hand-Brailled copies. The purpose is to provide a guide for locating books and, when used in conjunction with the Catalog of Press Braille Books Provided by the Library of Congress, it should enable a blind reader to know what is available for loan and where it can be found.

This Catalog includes titles from the Union Catalog of Hand-Copied Books in Braille—Grade One, Grade Two, and Grade One and a Half, Transcribed by Volunteers of the American National Red Cross and Others, compiled in 1934 and published by the Braille Transcribing Section of the Library of Congress in 1936, and from other catalogs issued from time to time by the Library of Congress Service for the Blind and by other organizations. Some of the titles appeared in A List of Books in Braille Grade One and a Half, compiled in 1930 (with supplements in 1932 and 1933), under the auspices of the American Braille Press of Paris and New York, by Miss Lucille A. Goldthwaite, then Librarian for the Blind of the New York Public Library.

The preparation of the Catalog has been a cooperative project enlisting the assistance of 38 libraries and organizations which contributed information relative to their holdings. The principal credit for the achievement of the Catalog is due the contributors, who have given generously of their time and effort to make this compilation available to blind readers and workers for the blind.

The Catalog is arranged according to the Dewey Decimal Classification System, and the subject headings conform, with some modification, to those in the 15th edition of that classification. Identification of some titles was not possible when the contributing library was unable to provide full information and in these instances the classification number given by the reporting library was used.

Location symbols are, in general, those employed by the National Union Catalog of the Library of Congress. A similar pattern has been followed in establishing the location key for those libraries not so symbolized.

Copies of this Catalog are available for loan from the regional libraries circulating Braille materials.

Contributing libraries are urged to report on holdings currently acquired, since the Division for the Blind will undertake to maintain a continuing union catalog in card form with a view to future publication of a supplementary volume if and when it seems advisable.
